Col. O. F. Bledsoe Goes to His Rewara

Prominent Citizen of Grenada County Passes Away at the Grenada Hospital Sunday Afternoon. Funeral Monday at Odd Fellows Cemetery.

Col. O. F. Bledsoe, Sr. passed away last Sunday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock at the Grenada Hospital in the eighty-fourth year of his age after an illness of short duration. Funeral services were conducted from the residence Monday afternoon at three o'clock by Rev. Walter Campbell of West Point, a former Grenadian and a life-long friend of Col. Bledsoe, assisted by Rev. Mellville Johnson , pastor of the Methodist Church at Grenada, after which interment was had at Odd Fellows Cemetery.

Mr. Bledsoe was born near Columbus, Miss. April 8, 1840 the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Bledsoe. The family came to Grenada in 1851 where the senior Mr. Bledsoe died at the age of 42.

After graduating with first honors from the University of Mississippi in 1860, Mr. Bledsoe enlisted at Columbus in the Confederate Army and saw active service throughout the war. He was in the battles of Shiloh and Franklin and in the campaign around Atlanta. The close of the war found him with the army in South Carolina. After his discharge, he re-entered the University and received his diploma from the law school, again distinguishing himself by graduating with first honors, a record at that school that has never been equalled. In 1869, he was married at Columbus to Miss Sallie Vinson Cooper who preceded him to the grave by little more than two years, her death having occurred August 28, 1921.

Mr. Bledsoe was an exceedingly energetic and active man, considering his advanced age and he had not given up his work until ten days before his death when he had to take to his bed. He was always busy at something about his farm and looked after every detail of its management himself. Some years ago, the magnificent residence standing on the top of a hill at the end of a shaded driveway leading from the public road and commanding a view of a great part of his large estate was built from tiles manufactured in his own plant on the place. He planned the building and supervised the construction himself. It is substantially built and has reflected credit on its owner and builder.

By industry, frugality and careful management, Mr. Bledsoe had amassed considerable property. He had added to the holdings of his father, both at Grenada and at Shellmound, in Leflore county, and had deeded the latter place to his son, O. F. Bledsoe, Jr. of Greenwood, who has also considerably increased the extent of the acreage there. The property at Shellmound was acquired in 1849 and at that time consisted of only a few hundred acres of land. Today it is one of the largest plantations in the delta and is perhaps one of the oldest businesses in the state, having passed from father to son twice.

Mr. Bledsoe was a constant reader and was perhaps one of the best posed men in the State on historical facts. He was a student and a thinker. He had an exceptionally brilliant mind as attested by his achievements at college and he was ever striving to improve and add to his vast store of knowledge. In his later years, Mr. Bledsoe seldom came to town except on business, preferring to remain at home with his work and with the books that he loved. He had few intimate friends but was admired and respected by all who knew him. Those close friends that he had were bound to him by ties that could not be broken and to them he was true and loyal. He was a man of steadfast convictions and sood foursquare for those things which he considered were right.

He had early in life united with the Methodist Church and had consistently lived up to his religious beliefs all his life.

Col. Bledsoe is survived by his son, O. F. Bledsoe, Jr., of Greenwood, one of the leading citizens of the delta, to whom The Sentinel extends its sincere sympathy.

COUNCIL PROPOSES CHARTER AMENDMENT

To Elect Marshal as Heretofore but His Duties Restricted. Recorder to be Appointed by Board and to Serve as Tax Collector and Assessor.

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen have proposed an amendment to the city charter whereby the marshal will be elected by the voters as heretofore but his duties will be only those of a police officer. The duties now performed by the marshal as assessor and tax collector will be taken over by the city recorder who is to be appointed, according to the amendment, by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen.

The board feels that this will enable it to have in the city's employ a man or woman to serve as recorder who is able at all times to tell at a minute's notice the exact condition of the city's affairs and one who will tay at the Mayor's office all the time. The aldermen feel that by taking the recorder's office out of politics they will secure an official who is peculiarly qualified to hold the office and one who is not dependent on the will of the voters for his job every two years. They want qualification for the place to be the standard and not mere popularity.

The amendment will be made and the changes will go into effect on and after the first Monday in May, 1924, when the new administration will go in, unless the qualified electors of the City of Grenada file a formal protest. The proposed amendment is published elsewhere in The Sentinel this week.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

On last Sunday, Nov. 4, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pressgrove and family prepared a delightful dinner in honor of Mrs. Pressgrove's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Perry, who on that day were celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day. The dinner was excellently prepared and there was an abundance of many good things to eat. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Pressgrove and their three sons, John, Rice and Andrew, there were present Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Perry, their two daughters, Misses Louise and Lillian, and their two sons, Thomas and George, and their married son with his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Perry, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Perry and their two children, John Rufus and little Miss Dit, Mrs. J. M. Brown and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Revell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Pressgrove's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Yorks, with their two young sons, Frank and Rice, and Rev. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

At the church services that morning, Mr. Farr preached a special sermon for the occasion of Mr. and Mrs. Perry's anniversary, announcing the event to his congregation at the close of his sermon.

Loving hands had made the church unusually beautiful with decorations of yellow chrysanthemums and palms and it seemed as if a wedding were really to be performed.

At the Pressgrove home just before the dinner, the "bride and groom" were called into the parlor where a beautiful ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Farr, little Frank Yorks, Jr., the great grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Perry, acting as ringbearer.

Both the sermon and the dinner came as a delightful surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Perry. Needless to say, the day proved thoroughly enjoyable to them and The Sentinel hopes that they will live to enjoy many another like it.

CARD OF THANKS

We realize the impossibility of expressing what is in our hearts and can only say that we are profoundly and sincerely grateful to our friends for their sympathy, their love and the many varied expressions of their interest and kind feeling shown us in our recent irreparable loss.

Sincerely,
D. O. Semmes and Family.

Separate Road District Carries

Election for Forming Beat One into Separate Road District Carries by More than 2 to 1. Light Vote Polled. Little Interest Manifested.

There was very little interest manifested in Grenada and Grenada County in the general election held last Tuesday, Nov. 6. All the candidates whose names appeared on the ticket were the Democratic nominees which virtually meant their election and the election was therefore merely a matter of form. Except in Beat One of Grenada County, nothing appeared on the tickets except the names of the candidates. There was a very light vote in the county and, in fact, all over the state only about fifteen per cent of the total vote was cast.

In District One, there appeared the question as to whether or not Supervisor's District One of Grenada County should be formed into a separate road district. The election on this question was ordered by the board of supervisors following the presentation to them some time ago of a petition signed by more than 20% of the qualified electors of Beat 1 requesting that a separate road district be formed. The vote went more than two to one for the formation of the separate district, the vote in Grenada being 127 for and 60 against; at Tie Plant, all the votes polled, 24, were cast for the question and at Elliott the vote was 10 to 2 against it.

Kemp Mattingly, supervisor from district one, who has been a strong advocate of making a separate road district of Beat One, states that it is not the desire nor the purpose to cut Grenada off from the rest of the county nor is it the intention to favor Grenada more than any other part of the county. But it is hoped by the formation of the separate road district to spend money where it will do the most people the most good and thereby give the greater part of the taxpayers the greatest returns for their money. It is purposed to spend the money where it is needed most and it is hoped that the result will work out to the general good of the entire county.

CARNIVAL IN GRENADA NOV. 17

On Saturday, Nov. 17, afternoon and night, there will be held in the business district of Grenada a carnival of many attractions to amuse and entertain young, old and middle-aged. The carnival will be made up of many and varied side shows, a fish pond, negro minstrels confetti booths and a booth where will be dispensed real, sure-enough homemade cakes and candies.

The affair is being given under the auspices of the Grenada Girl Reserves and the proceeds will be used in entertaining the visiting Girl Reserves who are coming to Grenada for the annual North Mississippi convention, Dec. 7-9.

JESSIE T. WEST PASSES AWAY.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday morning at ten o'clock from the residence of Miss Ruby I. McLeod on Main Street for Mr. Jesse T. West who died Wednesday morning at his home in Sumrall. The remains were brought to Grenada Thursday morning. The services were conducted by Dr. George W. Cheek, Presbyterian minister of Selma, Alabama, who preached at the Presbyterian Church here Wednesday night. Interment was had in Odd Fellows Cemetery.

Mr. West was formerly a citizen of Grenada having left here a number of years ago with his family. He had many friends here who were grieved to learn of his demise. Mr. West was born in 1850 and had served a long life of usefulness. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and had truly kept the faith. He was a good father, a devoted and loyal friend and an honorable and upright citizen.

He is survived by four laughters, Mrs. H. S. Ellison, Miss Maggie West, Mrs. T. B. Hughes and Mrs. A. M. Shelton and three sons, J. W., R. J. and Aubrey West, besides other relatives, to all of whom The Sentinel tenders its sincere condolence.

HOME COMING DAY AT MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE

November 17th will be Home Coming and Visitors Day for Mississippi College, Clinton, Miss. This will be the biggest celebration in the history of that noted college which was founded in 1826.

The Alumni, former students, parents, and friends of the institution will be the guest of the college on that day. The opportunity of seeing the buildings, being on the campus, meeting old acquaintances, talking with members of the faculty getting acquainted with the present student body, enjoying the excellent program, will make each one better acquainted with college life of today and also find that the same school spirit of other days has suddenly been regenerated and worked up to its one-time high pitch.

A barbecue-picnic dinner for 3000 visitors is being prepared by the college and citizens of Clinton for that day, November 17th.

Many high school students will for their first time spend a day as the guest of a college. The clubs of Jackson and Vicksburg have been invited to make Nov. 17th Mississippi College Day and have their weekly luncheon as guests of the college.

Every possible arrangement is being made for the greatest pleasure of each visitor, and it is the hope of the committee in charge that there will be a large representation from every section of the state. Many noted sons of the college will be there and hope to see their college friends.

The general program for the Day is as follows:

1. Basketball game—Hillman College vs. University. 10:00-11:00.
2. Mississippi College Glee Club Entertainment. 11:00-11:30.
3. Extemporaneous debate between old members of the Philomathean and Hermenian Literary Societies. 11:30-12:15.
4. Fall Orations by representative from each Society. 12:15-1:00.
5. Dinner served Free on Campus for all. 1:00-2:00.
6. Open Air Band Concert. Special Meeting of Visiting High School Football Men. 1:45-2:15.
7. Football game—Mississippi College vs. Mercer University from Macon, Georgia. 2:30.
8. Freshman Exhibition between halves of football game.
9. Banquet for former students. 6:30-8:30.

Mississippi College has a large number of men in this section of the state. They and their friends will be specially interested in this big college day. Mississippi College has had a large part in the development of our state. Her men have gone out to find themselves surrounded with problems of personal and public importance. These problems have been solved and worked out in the light of the instructions and principles that each man has within him. Their devotion to their college, their common characteristic spirit, indicates that Mississippi College has a large part in making an indelible impression for principle, culture, and work upon the very large majority of her students. A Home Coming celebration for that college and these men, therefore, will attract wide attention and doubtless be the largest college celebration ever held in Mississippi. The elaborate plans and interesting program for the day are made for those of our readers who desire to and can attend, and we are informed that every visitor will receive a cordial welcome and full entertainment.

much on the job at exactly 9:30 a. m. and on the job as an officer. We are organizing a quartette and will be ready soon to entertain the class with a quartette each Sunday morning. Our teacher always has a good message for us. Won't you come and join us?

RED CROSS ROLL CALL SUNDAY

Washington, Nov. 9.—In churches throughout the land worshippers of every faith day after tomorrow will observe Red Cross Sunday, marking the beginning of the Annual Red Cross Roll Call for the enrollment of members for 1924. In many, special exercises will be held and sermons relative to the work of the American Red Cross will be delivered.

Generally throughout the country the enrolling of members will begin immediately after the morning services. It is the expectation of the Red Cross that 5,000,000 members will begin or renew their allegiance to the Red Cross before the campaign closes, Thanksgiving Day, November 29.

Following is the announcement of the Roll Call by John Barton Payne, Chairman of the American Red Cross.

"Sunday is Armistice Day. It is fitting that the people of the United States, in their home, in the churches, wherever they may foregather, recall that day five years ago which marked the end of the greatest conflict the world has ever known.

"It is equally fitting that the American people should use this day to rededicate themselves to service in that great Legion of Mercy which did so much to alleviate the sufferings of war—the American National Red Cross. Surely we can pay no greater tribute to the men who went to the rescue of our liberty when that liberty was in peril than to ally ourselves with the organization which stood shoulder to shoulder with them throughout the long struggle.

"The Red Cross was the one army which did not lay down its arms upon the signing of the Armistice. On the contrary, much of its work had just begun. This mighty humanitarian army must never cease its labors; with your continued help it will not.

"There are thousands of men who wore this country's uniform during the war who, with their families, need comfort and help today even more than they did while the war was in progress. They will continue in need of this help for many years to come. The Red Cross has not forgotten them, and will not. It is the only medium through which most of us can express our loyalty to and sympathy for the men who are suffering today because they fought for us five years ago.

"The American Red Cross invites all to share in its inspiring responsibilities. It needs strength in numbers. In order to be truly American it must have your membership,—your ever loyal support. Its record of the past is secure; its record for the future will, I feel sure, be the better when we all stand with it to be counted as one great army, enlisted under a single banner for service to humanity.

"When the Roll is called and you are given the opportunity to renew your membership in this great organization, let the answer be: Every American, everywhere, a member of the American Red Cross."

Jackson, Miss.—The Synod of Mississippi of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S., will meet on Nov. 13, with the First Presbyterian Church of this city. A full docket of business will engage the attention of the body. Among the matters to come before the Synod will be: The interest of the Schools and Colleges of the Synod. Another educational matter for attention will be the relationship of the Synod to theological education. The Synod has been invited to join in the control of three different Seminaries, Union at Richmond Virginia; Columbia in South Carolina and the Kentucky at Louisville. A committee was appointed at the last meeting to make recommendations in this matter and this will be done. Rev. G. L. Bitzer, D. D. of Leland is chairman of the committee.

The membership of the Synod consists of all the ministers and one Ruling Elder from each church. Being a busy time of the year it is not possible for all the churches to have representatives present but there is always a goodly attendance. Among the Elders are many of the leading men of the state. The members will be guests of the Presbyterians of the city and a committee from the First Church, consisting of George B. Power, J. A. Alexander and Carl Faust, is in charge of the arrangements. Dr. J. B. Hutton is the pastor of the church and host to Synod. WEEKLY NEWS LETTER FROM DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

It is estimated that the money we annually spend on schools in Mississippi would go a million dollars further if every child in the State would attend school every day it is possible for it to go. Irregular attendance on the part of the pupil enrolled and non-attendance of many boys and girls in every district should be looked after vigorously by teachers, trustees, patrons and county superintendents.

It is said "that every day a have a money value of approximately ten dollars." Not only the child, but the school as a whole is hindered in its work by irregular attendance.

The compulsory school law requires every child from its seventh birthday to its fifteenth birthday to be in school continually for four months in each year, at a time designated by the County Board of Education.

Will not the people of every school district in the state see to it that every child, this winter, not only has a chance to go to school but actually attends school?

AMENDMENT TO CITY CHARTER.

The undersigned Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Grenada, Mississippi, hereby propose and order published as provided by law, the following amendment to the charter of said city, to-wit:

The marshal and recorder shall each be paid a salary to be fixed by the board, and the office of city treasurer is hereby abolished,

SERIES OF MEETINGS AT CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Beginning next Sunday, Nov. 11, a series of meetings will be held at the Central Baptist Church in Grenada. The pastor, Rev. E. R. Henderson, who is away this week conducting a meeting at Pleasant Hill, in Lee County, extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend these meetings.

The Chinese Plan is Best Says Authority

"Four thousand years of civilization have taught the Chinese the most logical way to preserve their health," said a well-known physician, a few days ago. "Instead of waiting until they get sick to call in the doctor they pay one a salary to keep them well.

"The trouble with most of us nowadays is that we go along disregarding our health, until, bang! one of these days, our system goes to sending in bills, and then we call in the physician and sometimes want him to undo in a few days what we have been doing to tear down our constitution for years."

The old saying "a stitch in time saves nine" applies with full force to the maintenance of our health.

By stopping occasionally to recuperate our health, energy and vitality through rest, recreation, and the use of effective aids to health there is no doubt that we would add at least ten years to our life.

The effectiveness and merit of Allison's Wells water as a tonic and as a means of relieving that run-down, tired-out feeling which is often the result of malaria, or stomach, kidney, liver, or bladder troubles, is clearly shown by the hundreds of statements from prominent men and women, who have quick and easy relief and help through the consistent use of this wonderful water when they were suffering from any of these distressing ailments.

The low rates, especially for families, which prevail at the famous Mississippi watering place, known as Allison's Wells, makes a vacation possible for families of limited means; and the splendid service and cooking and excellent accommodations makes it an attractive place for those whose means enable them to command just what they want.

Dancing, golf and tennis are among the amusements which help to make your visit more pleasant.

More information, if you want it, in an attractive booklet, will be mailed on request.

COMMITTEE ON ARRANGEMENTS MEETS

A. & M. College, Miss.,—"A More Prosperous Mississippi" was the keynote of the dicsussion carried on by the committee on arrangements for the mammoth industrial and agricultural conference which convenes at the college on December 12, in their preliminary meeting held here recently.

The committee meeting was highly successful and indicates that the conference will accomplish great things. The different members talked over what they considered the major problems of the state as representative individuals sifting out the biggest questions to put before the conference through competent speakers at its meeting on December 12.

The concensus of opinion seemed to center around the fact that Mississippi was suffering because of lack of unified effort and co-operation in the carrying out of any movement that looked to the betterment of the state. Constructive co-operation is needed instead of destructive competition. There were no cut and dried plans discussed at the meeting and no ulterior motive presented itself nor desire to shape legislation. It was simply a discussion of the distressing plight of the agricultural situation and possible remedial measures.

Junior Red Cross Spreads Good Will Throughout World

Nearly 5,000,000 pupils in the schools of America are following the standard of unselfish service as members of the American Junior Red Cross, the annual report of the American Red Cross discloses. This valiant host is represented in 125,072 school rooms of 24,289 schools throughout the United States. With a service program that is local, national and international in scope, the American Junior Red Cross is working unfalteringly for health and happiness and in the promotion of activities among boys and girls wherever there is opportunity for usefulness.

Increased activity on the part of the schools enrolled and deeper recognition by school authorities of the educational values of Junior Red Cross have been significant features of the last year. Carrying on educational and relief work in France, Poland, Austria, Hungary, Jugoslavia, Albania, Bulgaria and Rumania, the American Juniors have influenced the forming of Junior departments in the Red Cross organizations of these countries. American boys and girls wearing the "I Serve" button of the Juniors are proving apt messengers of the spirit of good will and mutual understanding through correspondence with pupils in schools scattered throughout the world. At the close of the school year in June 2,009 schools were engaged in correspondence with a like number of schools in Europe; 284 schools in our insular possessions and Alaska territory carried on an exchange of letters with schools in the United States and South Africa In fact, nearly 2,700 schools with probably 100,000 pupils were busy in this fine act of cheerful communication while 8,347 articles passed through National Headquarters of the Red Cross in exchanges between the interested pupils here and overseas. An incident of the year's advance was the beginning of activity which will eventually install Junior Red Cross in the Indian schools of the United States.

From every section of the country reports of the tour of the unit of crippled children with their chorus which came from the Bakule school in Prague, Czechoslovakia, to show gratitude to the American Juniors for their assistance declare that nothing since the World War has done so much to awaken the Red Cross spirit in the communities visited by the unit.

The work of the American Juniors in foreign fields is emphasized in the advancement of playgrounds, scholarships in farm, trade and other schools, community and school garden work, and donations of cash and equipment to children's organizations. In these projects $112,660.17 was spent during the last year in ten European countries, in China and in the Virgin Islands.

126,000 Miles of Cloth for Cement Sacks

To keep cement moving from the mills to the many building jobs always under way, cement manufacturers require an astonishing quantity of sacks.

This year the industry has considerably more than 225,000,000 sacks. These represent enough cotton cloth to make a skirt for every woman and girl in the United States—126,000 miles of 30-inch fabric. Even a moderate sized mill which ships say 1,000,000 barrels a year must have 2,000,000 or so sacks.

When a customer returns a sack he gets credit for it, if it is usable or repairable. The convenient returnable sack means that each plant has to have large departments where men and women sew, sort, clean and count sacks continuously. This work alone costs the industry nearly $1,250,000 a year.

And cement manufacturers keep increasing their sack inventories so that they can ship promptly. Last year they purchased a total of more than 100,000,000 new cotton sacks. For replacements alone over 50,000,000 were needed; for increased supplies over 30,000,000. In addition over 18,000,000 paper bags were used representing 7,000,000 pounds of paper.

This problem of containers causes a large and steadily growing investment by the portland cement industry.

WHAT WAS SAID 136 YEARS AGO.

"Constitution Week" suggested by the American Bar Association has refreshed the minds of many well informed people as to many almost forgotten events in connection with the Convention of 1787 which adopted the Constitution of the United States.

Particularly worthy of special consideration are the words of some of the members of the Convention.

"The evils we experience flow from an excess of democracy. The people do not want virtue, but are the dupes of pretended patriots."

Alexander Hamilton, one of the greatest minds who helped think out the scheme of our government, said:

"Give all the power to the many, they will oppress the few; give all power to the few, they will oppress the many; both therefore ought to have the power, that each may defend itself against the other."

On the morning of the last day of the fifth week, and when it looked as if the labors of the 55 men assembled were to come to naught—no agreed plan or plans could be adopted, it was left to Ben Franklin to suggest the source of the place of light and wisdom whereby the members of the Convention might get guidance to accomplish what was hoped to be done when they came together. Addressing the presiding officer, George Washington, Franklin said:

"Mr. President, I have lived, sir, a long time. The longer I live the more convincing proofs I see of this truth, that God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow can not fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an Empire can rise without His aid? We have been assured, sir, in the sacred writings that except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it. I firmly believe that without His concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel. I therefore beg leave to move that hereafter prayers imploring the assistance of heaven and its blessings on our deliberations be held in this assembly every morning before we proceed to business."

Washington, who was the presiding officer of the Convention, said:

"If, to please the people, we offer what we ourselves disapprove, how can we afterwards defend our work. Let us raise a standard to which the wise and honest can report. The event is in the hands of God."

Almost immediately minds began to work in concert and one of the greatest assemblies in the world's history, began to put together the document, our Constitution, which has been the light for the world and which has been the refuge and rock of our rights and liberties.

Just before the landing of the Pilgrim fathers, they prepared and entered into a written compact which began as follows:

"In the name of God, Amen. And having undertaken for the glory of God, and the advancement of the Christian faith," etc.

Each House of Congress begins every day with prayer. Official America has always acknowledged God as the chief stockholder in our government. Would that we would take him more and more into partnership in our individual lives each and every day.

An appeal to God gave the makers of our Constitution wisdom as to how to proceed. Who will dispute the statement that had Ben Franklin not suggested prayer and supplication that a far different history, one that we could not feel the pride in we do today, would have been written?

A closer partnership with God will solve the trying and perplexing problems of the present hour. Why not try the experiment? It never has failed to work, and God does not change.

MUST WORK TOGETHER

No town can grow as it should unless its people work together in its upbuilding. The history of every city that has had rapid and substantial growth will show that united and enthusiastic work of its people had the greatest part in making it grow. In towns where a few live men boost and work the town's upbuilding and many are indifferent and do nothing, the work of city building is exceedingly difficult and the results slow in coming. If all boost and help to build up the town it is an easy matter to make the town push forward.

The beauty of this city is one of its most valuable assets, and every effort should be made to take advantage of the gifts which nature has bestowed here lavishly.

More faith in ourselves we need;
More faith in the other man;
More faith in the friendly deed;
More faith in the helping hand;
More faith in our nation's glory;
More faith in the men who lead;
More faith in love's old story;
Let's take that for our creed.

—Bob Rice, Elyria, Ohio.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY FOR GIRL RESERVES.

The Girl Reserves' Club was delightfully entertained Friday evening by their directors, Misses Malone and Pitts. At seven-thirty, forty two of the forty nine club members met in the Girl Reserves rooms at the new High School. The Hallowe'en idea was carried out in decorations, costomes, and games. For two hours the halls rang with the merriment of ghosts, goblins and witches. After dainty refreshments were served, the girls reluctantly left the scene of revelry, declaring that they had had the very best time of their lives. The charfing hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Misses Temple and Halbert and Mrs. Dubard.

Misses Malone and Pitts are doing excellent work with the Girl Reserves this year and the organization is doing much toward gostering a fine democratic spirit among the girls.

TO DECIDE MOST POPULAR GIRL.

Much interest is being manifested in the Popularity Contest which is being promoted by the Girls' Reserves. The object is to determine the most popular young lady in Grenada. The contest will open Saturday, November 10, and will continue one week, the results to be announced at the Carnival Saturday evening November 17. The ballot box is at the White-Dyre Drug Store where votes may be cast at the rate of one cent each. Get in the game early and elect the young lady of your choice.

HE WAS OVER THERE. HE IS OVER HERE NOW

Along in 1918, we were always glad to hear from those who were "over there."

We wish to call your attention to the following letter from one of the gallant boys who bared his breast to the enemy for our sake.

Louisville, Miss.
June 20, 1922.

The Anona Company,
Jacksonville, Tenn.

Dear Sirs:

I want you to know just what I think of Spivas One Day Itch Remedy. There is not a doubt in my mind that it is the best remedy of its kind that is made. I had itch once and had tried about ten different kinds of medicines for this disease which did not help me. One day I heard about this Spivas One Day Remedy. I got a box and used it according to direetions and I was well within a day or two, and all the bumps were gone within a week.

While I was in the army several of my friends got this disease and I wrote for a box so they could try it, and it was such a success that I reordered several times and it never failed in a single case.

I hope that all of those who have itch will try this remedy, for it is a sure shot and never fails.

Yours truly,
(Signed) Shelby Woodward

OF INTEREST TO LESPEDEZA SEED GROWERS

Pooling to Begin at Coffeeville in Few Weeks.

By Thos. E. Douglas, Co. Agt. Yalobusha County.

Under a decision of the Board of Directors of the Farm Bureau Lespedeza Seed Growers Association there are to be two pools of Lespedeza seed. One at Calhoun City and the other at Coffeeville. This article concerns the pool at Coffeeville which I am temporarily interested in since the seed from Yalobusha County and Grenada County will be pooled there. Many of the farmers have spoken to me relative to the plan that will be used and during the last week I have been working on this plan and am now able to state definitely how the seed will be handled.

Warehouse space has been leased in Coffeeville in the Old Farmers Union Warehouse to take care of any amount of seed. The seed must be sacked in regulation sacks which the Association will furnish. These sacks will be new and stenciled with the name of the Association. The cost will be about 17c per sack. This will be greatly offset by the fact that seed sacked in new sacks bring more per bushel.

Financial arrangements have been made with the Bank whereby the owner of the seed can get one half the street price up to a maximum of $2.00 per bushel at the time the seed are delivered to the Association. This arrangement holds good for seed outside as well as inside of the Association.

All seed will be sold through the Association whether you are a member or not. Bring seed to the Warehouse as usual and secure your receipt, take your receipt to the bank and draw your money up to $2.00 per bushel depending on the street price. The remainder of your money will be forth coming when all the seed are sold. Each man in the pool will receive his pro-rata share of what the seed brings. I am sure that this arrangement will appeal to the farmers of this section because in this manner we are confident we are going to secure for you the greatest amount of money from your lespedeza seed.

All who do not join the Association for a period of five years will be asked to sign a contract with the Yalobusha County Farm Bureau allowing them to market your seed through the Association.

Since this is the closest pool of the Association to Grenada County farmers I am especially desirous that they pool here as I am certain we can get more for your seed by selling through the Association than you can anywhere else. Grenada County farmers are asked to pool their seed here in Coffeeville whether or not they are members of the Association. The more seed we can pool at Coffeeville the less overhead expense we will have per bushel.

We will have a supply of new sacks in several weeks. We will announce same through the papers and a full time man will be on at the warehouse to take care of storing seed and delivering sacks. Sacks will be charged to your account at the time of delivering them and taken out of your seed. Watch the paper for announcements relative to sacks and the opening of the warehouse. We are now quoting Lespedeza seed at $6.00 per bushel. We expect a good price for them and we especially request you to take advantage of the cooperative marketing of these seed. Your cooperation is sought in delivering your seed in our standard sacks containing 100 pounds of recleaned seed. Seed not cleaned to specifications cannot be received.

MUSIC LOVERS' CLUB

Miss Auman, directress of music in the city schools has organized a club known as the Music Lovers' Club. It was organized to create a greater interest in music among the pupils The work of the club is to study the great masters, their style of composition, and their works. At each meeting which is held once a month, a composition of the composer studied is played by one of the club members.

The first meeting of his club was held Wedtnesday afternoon in the school auditorium. Mary Louise McLeod rendered a delightful pinno solo. Ruth and Lillian Perry also played. A very interesting and instructive talk was given by Mary Slaughter on "The Origin of the Pianos." After this talk a musical contest was held. The prize winners were Carrie Mae Mae Smith and Edward Lockett.

QUARTER MILLION IS RED CROSS GOAL

An enrollment of 250,000 members is the goal set for the annual Red Cross Roll Call in the eight Southern States of the Southern Division to be held beginning Armistice Day, November 11, through Thanksgiving, according to a statement received today from Southern Division Headquarters, Atlanta, Ga.

The States comprising the divison are North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Messages received at Atlanta from cities and towns all over the South indicate a generous response to the yearly enrollment of members.

Joseph C. Logan, Division Manager, in commenting on the approaching campaign stated, "The American Red Cross has been tested in the last year as perhaps few organizations ever have by repeated calls for assistance and service which required quick and efficient response. Especially is this true of the Disaster Relief work. In fifteen serious disasters in the South in the last twelve months the organization has exerted itself to its capacity in succoring thousands of people deprived in a day of home, food, and shelter. It is highly gratifying to those who have worked so diligently to vindicate the trust placed in them by the American people to note the indications apparent on every hand of a great and enthusiastic enrollment this year."

Campaigns for membership will be conducted in almost every community in the South by the 719 local Red Cross chapters in the eight States.

For every membership taken in the Red Cross, fifty cents is sent to National Headquarters, Washington, D. C. This money, the aggregate of many small sums from all over the country, is pooled into one big fund and used for extending services to chapters that it would be impracticable for them to undertake locally, including Disaster Relief Work. Without the nurses, doctors, hospital supplies, food, clothing, provisions for shelter, and trained disaster workers, which the Red Cross was able to pour into the many communities of the South stricken by serious natural calamities in the last year, the situation would have been even more critical, and human suffering would have been augmented many times.

Fire, flood, and disease give no warning before they strike, and it is through membership in the Red Cross that an organization is perpetuated capable of coping with any emergency.

NEW SICKNESS KEEPS CHURCH MEMBERS HOME

A new sickness has appeared recently and is known as Morkus Sabbaticus, or Sunday sickness. It is a disease peculiar to church members. The attack comes suddenly every Sunday. No symptoms are felt Saturday night. The patient sleeps well, and eats hearty breakfast, but about church time the attack comes on and continues until services are over in the morning.

Then the patient feels easy and eats a good dinner. In the afternoon he feels much better and is able to take a walk, talk about politics and read the Sunday papers. He eats a hearty supper, and about church time he has another attack and stays at home. He retires early, sleeps well and wakes up on Monday morning refreshed and able to go to work, and does not have any symptoms of the disease until the following Sunday, says a Masonic exchange.—Square and Compass.

A SILK UMBRELLA

By MILDRED LAVOIE

(©, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

MISS EVELINA Day was a gentle little spinster, and she coveted a silk umbrella.

"It has cost me a new hat, but I am glad I have it," she told her friend, Carrie Brown.

"Yes, and the first time you take it out you'll be sure to leave it behind you," replied the practical Carrie.

Now a silk umbrella having cost so much, is a precious thing, and Miss Evelina only took hers out on sunshiny days. Whenever it rained she always carried with her a big cotton umbrella. But this particular day the sun shone brightly, therefore the silk umbrella went for an airing. She had to attend one of those meetings where much is said but nothing is done, and no conclusion is arrived at. She yawned through a dreary afternoon, and when she arrived home—horrors! To her chagrin she discovered that she was not carrying her silk umbrella, but a big cotton one, which unmistakably was the property of some man. Of course, the person in the checkroom made the error, but, oh, dear! why hadn't she remembered that she had the silk umbrella with her!

When she returned the umbrella the following day, a big man of uncertain years was already there, bellowing about his umbrella.

"You gave me that lady's parasol in place of my parachute, which really keeps out the rain. Abominable, I call it!"

"Oh, dear," spoke Evelina, "I think I must have your umbrella. Why, Mr. Jarvis, do you remember me?"

"Bless my heart! You are little Miss Evelina Day, are you not?" To be sure, I remember when your uncle—"

So that is how they met. Then followed days when they had tea together, when they lunched together, when he sent her books and flowers, and little Miss Evelina blushed like a young girl and had dreams, lovely dreams! Sometimes she would set her tiny table for two, and would ask an imaginary person across the table, "How many lumps, dear, two?" Then she would blush and reprimand herself for indulging in such childish nonsense.

But there came a blank day when she heard nothing from him. Then other blank days followed. Finally, he sent her a letter in which he stated he had something very precious he wished to give her and—could he call the following afternoon?

"Miss Evelina," he told her, after they had exchanged greetings, "you have been very kind to me, and I wish to reward you. You are a woman I can trust with anything, even my dearest possession."

Miss Evelina held her breath.

"Ah, Miss Evelina, the dearest thing that I have is none too good for you. To show how I trust you, I am going to leave in your keeping my—my pet alligator, Brutus, I call him. He's been with me for more than five years. I bought him when I was last in South America, where I must soon return."

"Oh—oh, thank you!" There was just the suggestion of tears in Miss Evelina's eyes.

"And, Mr. Jarvis, I have a precious possession which I desire to place in your keeping. I want to leave you my—" But Miss Evelina remembered that she had no pet. Her only possession was the silk umbrella, but he had already condemned that as a worthless article, and what would he do traveling in South America with a lady's parasol? What could she give him to show her trust?

"Yes, Miss Evelina, you have something you wish me to have?"

"Yes, Mr. Jarvis. I want to give you the only thing I possess. Perhaps you may not want it, and of course you have the right to reject my offer. But, Mr. Jarvis, if you really want it—why, I offer you—" But here her feminine decorum took complete possession of her, and she burst into tears.

"Bless my heart, Miss Evelina, does it hurt so much to part with it?"

"No, Mr. Jarvis, it's not that. But it does hurt to say it. If you wish, you may have me. I have no other possession worthy of you. I say this merely to show how far I trust you."

"Why, my dear Miss Evelina, that is indeed a great deal." Then, because he was a real gentleman, he acted as it was fit and proper for a gentleman to act on such an occasion.

A few hours later Miss Evelina waved to him from her window. As he walked along the street he murmured to himself: "Well, that's not so bad. I'll have some one to mend my clothes and make me comfortable, and talk to me. Come to think of it now, I do get dreadfully lonesome. And Evelina is a dear. It would have been hard, too, to part with Brutus. Strange I never thought of our marrying. Why, it's just the thing."

But the event had no such reaction on Miss Evelina. She took out the silk umbrella and hugged it.

He Should Worry.

Buddy was up before the disability board. The pompous alienist was asking him a long string of questions to determine his mental condition, and Buddy was rapidly getting disgusted.

"Quick," shouted the celebrated doc, "tell me this: How many legs has a lobster?"

Buddy looked at him crushingly before replying.

"For the luva Mike," he said, "is that all you got to worry about?"—The American Legion Weekly.

RED CROSS HELPS WAR'S SUFFERERS

Aids 200,000 Veterans and Their Families—27,000 Disabled Still in Hospitals.

SPENDS $5,866,255 IN YEAR

Individual Attention Assured to All Physically Ailing or in Distress.

Washington. — War service five years after the armistice, which on November 11 the American Red Cross marks with the opening of the annual membership canvass, shows that during the past year assistance was extended by the Red Cross to some 200,000 ex-service men or their families. To 130 hospitals throughout the country approximately 75,000 ex-service men were admitted for treatment, and to 63,296 of these men definite and specialized service was extended, the Red Cross annual report discloses. In all hospitals under government operation a total of nearly 27,000 disabled veterans were reported by the Surgeon General of the Army.

These facts of the aftermath of physical and metal disability five years after the World War, and the burden resting upon the relatives and dependents of the ex-service men, show conclusively the great need of the Red Cross to act as a supplementary arm of the government in service to these many thousands of men who wore the uniform of the United States. It should be emphasized that government assistance is necessarily standardized along specified lines affecting them as a whole. The Red Cross service is to the individual man and the solution of his problems. This the Red Cross designates "home service" for its aims to give the loving care and interest of the home to these men undergoing physical reconstitution far from their actual home influences.

Year's Expenditures $5,866,255

In the year ended last June 30 the Red Cross reports $3,920,000 spent by its Chapters in extending individual attention to the ex-service men and $1,946,255 spent by National Headquarters of the Red Cross, a total of $5,866,255. In behalf of the men called to duty in the World War the Red Cross since July 1, 1917, has spent nearly $164,000,000. Today there are 2,608 Chapters in as many localities carrying on this work, aiding the individual veteran, assisting his family, furnishing creature comforts and funds to tide over troublesome periods.

The strong connecting link between the Red Cross and the United States Veterans' Bureau takes the complications out of difficult cases of claims. The Red Cross in this work requiring personal representation of the ex-service man has acted in appeal cases, insurance matters, personal and family problems, camp and hospital activities, and in cases of death. This service handled nearly 12,000 compensation and insurance claims, and 2,225 allotment and other claims.

Solves Serious Problem

The financial problem of the ex-service man when traveling to and from hospitals is a serious one, and in meeting this constant demand the Red Cross expended $138,334.17 during the year. For extra recreational equipment in Veterans' Bureau training centers $14,306 was spent, and for the blinded veterans in the government school funds were supplied to enable some of these unfortunate men to enter business as storekeepers and poultry raisers.

In Veterans' Bureau hospitals the record of a single month illustrates the large service rendered by the Red Cross. For example, 15,504 new cases required attention, and a total of 26,007 cases were acted upon; 49,368 letters and 1,863 telegraph messages written, and more than 1,600 entertainments given in recreation houses for the benefit of the patients.

Authorities declare that the present is a critical time in the lives of many of the disabled ex-service men who during the five years since the armistice have developed misgivings of recovery.

Work Among the "Regulars"

Service to the enlisted men of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps is a charter obligation of the Red Cross, which in the last year recorded over 200,000 cases of assistance extended and 834,420 visits to the sick and disabled. Inquiries by the Red Cross at the request of Government authorities into the home conditions of soldiers, sailors and marines aggregated 17,714, and there were nearly 6,000 instances where the Red Cross located men for their families.

All these activities constituting a single responsibility of the American Red Cross demonstrated during the year that its "war service" in behalf of the veteran and the man enlisted in the nation's defensive arms must go forward unfalteringly and without stint of funds. The work of the last five years has welded a close bond of regard between the men who sacrificed and the Red Cross, whose efforts are praised and indorsed by the veterans' organizations. To do all that can be done to soften the consequences of the hard blows of war is the supreme duty of the Red Cross, to which it is giving its best work and most liberal service.

YOU KNOW IT!

Complainin' 'bout the weather doesn't change a dog-gone thing;
The weather-man goes right ahead and hands us anything
That he thinks we got comin' and the more we fret and fuss,
The more we get a lot of rotten weather handed us.

It's just the same in bus'ness—it's the same in ev'ry thing—
Complainin' 'bout conditions and hard times 'll never bring
The trade that we would like to have to make our bus'ness jump,
And keep the wheels a turnin' and make the fact'ries hump.

So let's forget about the thing that happened yesterday,
And look ahead and find out what tomorrow's got to say;
Tomorrow's full of hope and cheer, and well will it repay
The ones who keep their courage up and play the game, to-day!
